

Petitgrain essential oil paraguay

The bigaradier or "bitter orange tree" is native to Asia. Petitgrain oil is distilled from the leaves and branches, whereas neroli oil comes from the white and very fragrant flowers.

Our commitments

This essential oil is sourced directly from the origin.

OLFACTIVE NOTES : Floral, green

Main features

USE
Food, Aromatherapy, Cosmetic, Perfumery

BOTANICAL NAME
Citrus aurantium l.

BOTANICAL FAMILY
Rutaceae

INCI NAME
Citrus aurantium amara leaf/twig oil

CAS NUMBER
8014-17-3

FEMA NUMBER 2855

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN
Paraguay

PLANT PART USED
Leaves, terminal branchlets

PROCESSING METHOD
Steam distillation

CERTIFICATIONS/LABELS
Conventional, Nmpa

CONSTITUTION
100% pure and natural

MATERIAL SAFETY DATA
www.quickfds.com

Formulation

This essential oil is widely used in fragrance and particularly in the composition of "Eaux de Cologne". It is also appreciated in cosmetics for its sebum-reducing action and in aromatherapy for its soothing effect.

COS'ING
Masking / perfuming / skin conditioning

COSMETIC FUNCTION
Tonic

COSMETIC PROPERTIES
Firming, lymphotonic